

To whom it may concern:

Rahimbayli Sattar was working with Medicolonia (medicolonia.com) under my leadership for the last 6 month. His job was the development of our website, addition of the content, and server configuration. During our weekly conversations, Mr. Sattar showed excellent communication skills and reliability. He was well organized and worked both individually and in the group.

He was quick to volunteer to assist in other areas of company operations, as well. For instance, he took initiative in the search of designers to create the high-quality page layout. Moreover, he provided assistance in finding translators for creating a multilingual page.

I strongly recommend Mr. Sattar and wish him all the best in the future. If you have any further questions regarding his background or qualifications, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Regards,
Eloy Pulido, Founder.
